CAUTION: RISK DISCLOSURE STATEMENT

The Participant should NOT undertake any investment unless the Participant fully understands the risks and is prepared to take the risks. The Participant should carefully consider whether the investment is suitable in light of the Participant's knowledge and experience in financial and business matters, investment objectives, financial means and the risks that the Participant is prepared to take. The risks of investing in any product include but are not limited to the following:

- (a) 100% loss on such investments. There is a risk that Participant may lose all of its money on investments. For example, investments available through a platform/facility may include the shares or debt securities of early-stage companies or companies without a proven track record. The risk of business failure is high. For every 10 new businesses formed in Singapore, 7 to 8 may cease operations in the same year.
- (b) Difficult to cash in or exit such investments. It may be difficult or even impossible for the Participant to cash in on or exit such investments. Certain investments are subject to resale restrictions, and there may not be a secondary market for them. If the investment is in the form of equities or shares, the Participant may not receive a dividend, and the Participant's shareholdings could be significantly diluted if new shares are issued. In addition, if the shares are unpaid or partly paid, the Participant will still be liable to pay the remaining amount to the company.
- (c) Online platform/facility failure. If the online platform/facility handles the Participant's money, the Participant may also lose all its money in this investment if the online platform/facility fails and becomes insolvent.
- (d) Risks of investing in foreign issuers. If such investments are offered by an issuer in a foreign jurisdiction, the Participant's investment will be subject to the laws and regulations of that jurisdiction. The Participant may also be subject to additional tax liabilities, transaction costs and capital controls.
- (e) No disclosure requirements. The Participant may not have sufficient information to make fully informed investment decisions. There may not be any statutory obligation for issuers or intermediaries to provide the Participant with information that the Participant would reasonably require to make informed assessments of offers being made to the Participant.
- (f) No assurance that financial statements from the companies that Participant may invest in will be accurate or accessible. The financial statements of the companies which the Participant may invest in may not be subject to a statutory audit. As such, the financial information presented to the participant may not have been ascertained by a qualified professional auditor. An unaudited financial statement may not accurately reflect the financial health of a company. In addition, the financial statements of the companies may not be made accessible to the Participant in the absence of requirements in their home country for them to do so.
- (g) A variety of factors, many of which are beyond anyone's control, and may affect the operations, performance and results of any businesses and investments, and could cause actual results to differ materially from current expectations of estimated or anticipated events or results. These factors include, but are not limited to: the impact or unanticipated impact of general economic, political and market factors, fluctuations in interest rates, inflation and foreign exchange rates, monetary policies, business investment and the health of local and global equity and capital markets, management of market liquidity and funding risks, risks related to investments in private companies and illiquid securities, risks associated with financial instruments, changes in accounting policies and methods used to report financial condition (including uncertainties associated with significant judgments, estimates and assumptions), the effect of applying future accounting changes, business competition, operational and reputational risks, technological changes, cybersecurity risks, changes in government regulation and legislation, changes in tax laws, unexpected judicial or regulatory proceedings, catastrophic events, manmade disasters, terrorist attacks, wars and other conflicts, or an outbreak of a public health pandemic or other public health crises.

The Participant should seek independent professional advice if the Participant do not fully understand the risks of investing in any product offered on a platform/facility or any of the statements above.
